Skiing-adventure

goal:

A great adventure with skis

time & groupsize:

2-3 days for a group of 1-4 people

location:

In the area of Salzburg max. 1-1,5h driving from the airport. The exact location will depend on weather- & snow-conditions. The easiest for me is, if you let yourself surprise. When we meet I shall sum up the possibilities we have and we can decide together the best choice combining the given circumstances and your wishes & ideas .

variations:

There are three options for our trip and every option is fine for me:

- descend-oriented: In this case we would use both elevators and our skis for ascending and get maximum downhill-metres in (hopefully) great snow!
- adventure-oriented: In this case we would bring our things for a bivouac and would concentrate on remote areas where the descends are in the background and the adventure, solitude & nature in the foreground
- wellness-oriented: In this case we would keep the physical aspect very light and have a sauna in the evening in a nice hotel

Deciding which option you want to choose helps me to plan the best alternatives.

Whenever you have decided which option you want to choose, I shall send you the kit-list!

your investment:

Overall amount of 600,- per day

Included: Organisation and delivery of 2-3 days guiding in the area described above, transportation with my van from / to Salzburg, digital photographs of our trip afterwards.

Not included: Travel expenses, costs for cable-cars etc., food & beverage, rental mountain-equipment
